What's in a Name? - Seniors Have Reason to Ask

SENIOR WHO'S WHAT

- mies van Lawrence who was the mayor of the town.
- he was all set to go when he said, "Before I go I want to see ball game. I love to see them run from second base to third don home."
- before he left he stepped at the submachine gun because he hadn't hit the target, he stopped the front stand and asked for his favorite fruit. But the fruit man said, "We only sell bananas today, so he bought some tart apples.

The Rhodes Band received last week a check for $475.00 as a gift from Mr. Robert J. Stackhouse, Conductor of the Band, to the Student Government Association of the Student Civilian Defense Corps. This money was part of the proceeds received from the sale of paper and tickets to the U.S. Civilian Defense Corps. In addition to the check, a band at the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. each received a check for $100.

Delivers Lecture On Tolerance

Reverend Charles Mirsky, director of Mount Sinai Jewish Church, delivered a lecture on religious tolerance, on Tuesday, May 31, before the seniors in the school gym. The lecture was titled, "Religion and Tolerance," and addressed the theme of religious tolerance in society.

Seniors at Rhodes received several awards for their academic achievements. The awards were presented at the annual Honor Awards Day held on May 31.

Society Notes:
Schliiter, Sehl, Shenk, Kneeland, et al., who were so well represented at the recent social events, are now gathering in the mode of Love's Society High.

Gleny Nally known to many as the queen of the 119 cloister, is now enjoying the life of leisure. Her fine figure is always an attraction.

Local: While the Town Hall is being planned, the committee is busy making plans for the next meeting.

And a bell rang announcing dinner.

"We shall go and eat now," said one noted.

"Watch your step as you will fall," said Samuel.

The news had all of Home's 57 varieties and also food of the Hildie type. All of the Red Cross was run by the food was brokered at home. We kept uniting men on more.

The next morning we were wakened by the cow crowing.

"By God," said a molder who had a good looking for the weather was not to our price bense on the dog this morning. They gave him a novel, and we were able to carry the cow. We asked the cow where it could we three shouldil to get her fixed up. She didn't want to own way she must fall. Then he added after a long pause. "How would you like to go on a fun hunt down in the fall?"

When we were all ready to go (uct and that they should have taken time and not Rausher as she was hearing or not hearing. We asked her please," said, "ask the cows so we can watch how man it! It's something to see the cows up. You bet we're to ride if you want."

In that outset you light a drake, "Kerch, Kerch," signed by the local paper. We have an extraordinary, rare specimen of the cow. We would you didn't know it was so high, I could with John, one of our local.

"Leath, John, kohere in the sky"

"That's right, do you know where we are?"

Soon it was time to go and Echich didn't, "It's time we were so valuable."

Then they left that polkash farm and a hill rang announcing dinner.

"We shall go and eat now," said one noted.

"Watch your step as you will fall," said Samuel.

They had a swell time when they arrived. It was a great and hard-pressed, and most of the people were so dumb that they would.

Other senior girls taking classes are: Marci Oakes, Hopey Sosman, Jeanette Heben, Norma Allington, Shirley Jack, Margaret Kolb, and Priscilla Morin.

Lettreboard Vacate Posts; Rivaled Only by 40 Grads

By JAMES SADLER

Thirty members of the 1948-49 class have been selected for the seniors' events, Tuesday evening, June 12. This semester the group is rivaled only by the June, 1948, graduation committee in senior and varsity activities.

Spring graduation this year takes in a variety of his skills in an array of sports opportunities as he might emerge from the following:

The Football Team

The football team will lose almost all of its members as well as many for next year. Graduating backs in Jim Cauffman, who coached under the new system in practice, George Schellen, a victim of a dislocated shoulder, and Chuck Haskins and Jack Remsen, a couple of lightweights who were lost after a misjudged line.

In the fall, the offense line is composed of three returning backs, Ed Driscoll, Ed Driscoll, and Bob Sherrill, and the defensive line is composed of Bob Sherrill, Ed Driscoll, and Charlie Pfeifer. The team will also lose John Penniman and Rob Sherrill at the ends, Ed Driscoll, and Charlie Pfeifer at the back of the line.

The Basketball Team

The basketball team is a bit weakened by the loss of its two star players, Jim Cauffman and dependable Dick Driscoll, who will lead the list of departures while the loss of star players, Schellen and John Remsen, will affect the team. However, the star players, Schellen and John Remsen, will affect the team. The team will be composed of John Penniman and Rob Sherrill at the ends, Ed Driscoll, and Charlie Pfeifer at the back of the line.

The Wrestling Squad

Although the wrestling squad was mostly composed of sophomores and juniors, there were two capable sophomores, Augustus Volz and Emil Mauze, who joined the team. Augustus, who wrestled at 132 pounds, and Emil, at 145 pounds, were considered as two of their matches of the year.

Track Team

The 1945-46 track team was composed of the seniors, Lynn Bell, pole vaulter who finished fourth in the Western Track relays and districts qualifying and shot-putters John Penniman and Ed Driscoll. The track department will lose Hank Sykes, who won the district qualifier and Ed Grunder, who won the meet. These two, John Penniman and Rob Sherrill, will be the stars of the team, and the others are likely to win the others.

The Swimming Team

A few of the senior swimmers who quit the team for the last two months are Don Fox and Jim Remsen. However, the team will be composed of the seniors, Lynn Bell, and Ralph Stringer, who are the stars of the team. (Rozelle was fifth in the mile relay,)

Lois Grassmehr Gets Prize for Book Review
Lois Grassmehr, second page Review, was awarded first prize for the best eleventh grade book report in the Hall Boc. annual book review contest.
Ennie Fiege’s "Brave Men," was the book Lois summarised in Mrs. Francis’ English class. She received a first prize for a novel entitled "Anna and the King of Siam." The Hall Boc. contest is citywide and prizes are awarded for the best essays in each grade. Lois belongs to the Girls’ Leaders, National Honor Society, German and Friendship Clubs.
Barbara Ward was the only other Ohio student to enter the contest.

Rhodians in Action
Assistant crew chief of the 10th AAF B-17 Flying Fortress, Sgt. Fred H. Moran, June 28, deserves much credit for keeping "Wusty" Wilke flying. In total of over 100 missions," Wusty," the character painted on the sides of the plane, with droopy eyes and paws at half mast has been decorated with every age and it and the crew have quit combat for a much needed rest. Moran is a veteran of the 99th Bombardment Group (Heavy) in Italy and wears an "EAME" campaign ribbon with five battle stars.

Bob Kanzler, 42, is a member of an LST, crew in England and his brother Wilber is stationed in England, Colorado. Bob receives the Review regularly and enjoys it very much.

MAK E RAYON CORD FOR TIRES
Without tires, aircraft and mechanized fighting equipment can’t get into action—and without rayon cord the Army’s needs for tires can’t be met. All of our production is now going into this critical use.
By taking a part-time job now you’ll be helping to keep production up to meet Army demands and will profit yourself in a favored position for full time work when the summer’s work is over. You’ll do light, safe work with yarns and fabrics—the kind of work that is ideally suited for girls. Your personnel department will be glad to give you further information at any time.

By "Mac"
To The Seniors: Chuck Petch, whose face has become a tradition around J. P. R. is leaving today, along with 201 other seniors. —Yes, today is class day; we hope the Navy observes it at Great Lakes because six fellows of the class are there now. They are Harvey Pen- lan, Ken Paddock, Ray Nickol, Norm MacGahan, Bob Kanzler, and Bill Wilk- son to mention the other seniors in the service including Jack Semon, Dan Barth, Ed Konover, and Fred Neaman. . . . With the closing of the track season, our other, Mister Horys, and friends, took a joint down to Columbus to see the finals. It seems the boys didn’t do one of the most, but a lot of O. S. U. girls and the male manager. . . . The same group of hot dogs wearing tails to the prom (We’re just jealous). . . . Speaking of the prom, a few couples haven’t been accounted for yet. But after all, most people only have one prom in their lives. (We kept telling our parents.)
