Bill Dreise's band will play at the following "Gobble Hobble," which can be sponsored by the language club and is scheduled for the Wednesday before Thanksgiving, November 27. Henry Longden’s poem "The Bouquet of Three Pears," a well known story of Pilgrim courtship, will serve as an appropriate theme. The theme being held in the gymnasium will commence at 8:00 and the tickets will go on sale soon at the usual price of 60 cents.

The language clubs have chosen the following members as their committee:

In charge of publicity, Eleanor Madschak, Robert Obiski, Noella Noll, and Shirley Weyl; in charge of decorations, Barbara Wittman, Mr. Wolf, Jane Burke, Donald Dohmko, and Donald Jolson; George Leibson is in charge of the money for the dance. There will also be entertainment during intermission by cheer and social groups.

The presidents of the three clubs, Donald Wren, Mr. Yarski, and the student council members were present at the meeting, and their duty consisted of giving the members their arm bands.

Jean Solits,
Chosen Queen

The crowd was turned and fireworks set off on a bench waiting, licking for the start of the Football Game. Along Rhodesians

Caroll Roth wants everyone to know that she is above all the common things of life. In other words, she's not going steady with Roger Duering.

-Adapted from "Short Story," Barstow's "The Hatter"

He has a beard.

It was a long, long time ago.

He was wearing a blue suit.

He had heard that Richard Schellhardt is taking the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Barbara Wiltish. There are more best friends double-crossing people these days than there are best friends. But I really think he has something the way he stands and stares at himself in the mirror. I wish I thought I was cute.

And with that, I refer you to "The Man Who Cried Wolf," by Thomas B. Milbourn.

Jonathan, our long-distance reader, has just received a notice from the Department of Motor Vehicles that he is due for renewal of his driver's license. He is looking forward to it, as he says, "I wish I knew I was cute."

And with that, I refer you to "The Man Who Cried Wolf," by Thomas B. Milbourn.

Judy, a friend of Mary Jane Rehoboth, would know.

Then there's Jeannine and Jackie Rindermaking going steady with a boy who's old enough to vote.

They have a lot of friends.

She is very cute.

And with that, I refer you to "The Man Who Cried Wolf," by Thomas B. Milbourn.

Jean Lambo is a good sport. He's making a good impression on the Rhodesian.
Topnotch Five Expected This Year

Play Alumni in Season Opener

As "Old Man Winter" rolls around promptly 500 alumni, including 45 from the gridiron to the hardwood.

This year Coach Warren Xamorlold is anticipating a top-notch five since the majority of the '45-'46 outfit. West Tech, the West Senate side held only managed to squeeze out a hard-fought seven-point triumph over the locals. Departing from this year were All-Scholastic Norm Fusco and John Kurna.

Returning from the starting lineup are Ralph Armstrong, Jack Biendagel, Hank Meyer, and Bill Putich. Armstrong, all 6-feet 6-inches of him, and Richard are excellent follow-up artists while Hank Meyer is a rugged defense specialist besides being a deadly long shot. Putich's jump and set shots combined with good field shooting and passing have helped make the team efficient under running guard. These hopes plus the other, Jim String, Steve Thorp, and Jack Mossbach from Collinwood should signify a season of good basketball at Rhodes.

Top honors are expected to go to Rhodes and Collinwood tussles, the locals needing the road for Ashland, Ohio, where the men's basketball was held. The local team rated 17 in the state last year.

"Valks" boys are booked for a 13-game schedule, the final against the defending West Senate Champion West Tech Carpenters.

Meet Grads Friday

This year's alumni team, captained by Dick Stitt, June '46, will be matched against the 1944-'45 Rhodes varsity on November 13. The line, in addition to Stitt, will include such Rhodes graduates as Ralph String, Tom Johnson, Robert Kaspar, and the two Khouris. The locals have been practicing night after night, and their coach, Dick Stitt, coached the team to fine condition.

First inter-scholastic clash is on tap next November 10, beginning at 8:30 as the local team takes on a strong Collinwood team with eight returning including Sills, Sollock, Galbreath, Swisher, Beery, Tiber, Burgos, Tusia, and Kola.

Bowl to Tech in Season Grid Finale

"Down" mentally after being peppe up for the Nov. 14 game, the locals were the victims of a 12-8 upset sustained at the hands of the West Tech Carpenters.

Coach Lucas crashed through to block a punt early in the second period, and his local team came out on the right end and ended resulting in a 2-0 lead for the Rams. The third period saw the locals gaining a foothold over the 2 to a 2-2 tie, increasing the Blue and White margin to 8-2.

Un andersely, the Carpenters came back to tally twice in the last half, but the locals recovered twice to even the score at 12.

Four Rhodes, not including the center, will participate in Bill Veccio's pro-game and half-time ceremony. The Rams will play for the pre-game, which was distance and accuracy, while Jack Rohrbach will make a dash for the honors in the pre-game festivities. The other participating team in the pro-game ceremonies are Herb Harper, who will do the football, the center, if the arm hangs, and Jean Sadler, queen representing Rhodes.

Football season over, but the basketball squad will need your support. Follow your cheerleaders and really pull!
Students to Name Rink
For naming the "City Ice Skating Rink" some student will receive fifty dollars. Seniors Take State Test
Last week the Ohio State Psychological test was given to the present 12A's at Rhodes. The test is required for all seniors.
Of a possible 120 points, Eleanor Dillenbahner ranked highest with a score of 100 points or 83 per cent. George Feneck was second with 96 points. The Ohio State test is a college attitude test of the mental ability of each person. It determines how a student might do in college or any other occupation in which academic ability is important.
In some cases a student who ranks in the lower third of the class in scholarship, may place in the upper third of the class in the percentile grade of the test.
