Uniforms and Instruments Purchased Fronts Sales of Annual Magazine Drive

Each year, members of the Rhodes Band and Orchestra sponsor a magazine drive, for the purpose of raising funds for band uniforms, instruments, sheet music and field trips. The fund drive began Tuesday, October 18 and will run for two weeks, ending the second week in November.

Through this program, the Band and Orchestra receive 30% of the subscription cost of the five most popular magazines. The choices of magazines are: Life, Look, McCall's Reader's Digest and Better Homes and Gardens, plus 150 others. Prints are offered by the company to top salesmen in magazine drives.

In the past, the money has helped purchase band uniforms, rain coats.

Vietnam Correspondent Addresses Journalists

By CAROL WIEDEMAN

Tom Tiede, noted Vietnam was correspondent, spoke to over 1,000 teen-aged students at The Cleveland Press 19th Annual Journalism Institute. The program, attended by 16 Review staff members, was conducted at the Engineering Center on October 29.

Cleveland Press Editor, Tom Boardman, and teen writer, Judy Fremon, opened the program held in the auditorium. Featured speaker, Tom Tiede, was then introduced.

"To encourage you to become newspaper and women," was the subject of the 38-year-old reporter's address. Candid infomrational, he illustrated his journalistic past and gave specifics on pursuing such a career.

"If the Viet Cong would stand up and fight, we could automatically remove them," Tiede asserted during the question and answer session which followed.

The winner of the 1965 Ernie Pyle Memorial Award, Tiede covered Vietnam for the Newspaper Enterprise Association for almost seven months. There he wrote 180 stories on the war earning him worldwide recognition. At the institute, he related some of his war experiences.

Following the talk, Cleveland Press reporters directed 15 specialized clinics, ranging from feature writing to photography. In three-hour clinics, basics, problems, and examples in all phases of school journalism were discussed.

Ram Flashes

Mr. Clayton Krebski, scholar-in-residence at Rhodes on October 10, will once again return here November 9, to help the Senior Choir prepare for the Choir Festival on December 8, to be held at John F. Kennedy High.

The 12A Class will sponsor a dance here on November 18, for all Rhodes students in order to raise funds for their yearbook.

Dylm Plays Sokini In School Comedy

"The Ten House of the August Moon," a play which appeals to all ages and will be well worth attending," states Dave Dylm, 11B, cast in the lead role in the play, "I hope that everyone who comes to see the performance."

The school play, a comedy, will be presented on the evenings of December 2 and 3. Miss Rita Doberty, English and dramatics teacher, is the director of the play. Holly Kosheusko, 11A, is the assistant director.

Portraying the role of Dylm will be Dave Dylm. Other characters will be played by Bob Baber, Brian Carusote, Sue Omanie and Beulah Schampa, 11B's; Chris Komolinski, 11B; Mike Mayo and Bob Booster, 11B.

A live goat is still needed for the play's production. Anyone is able to help should please contact Miss Doberty.

Boyd, Beatty, Ulicky To Appear On It's Academic

Rhodes scholars will have an opportunity to display their talents on November 21 when "It's Academic" is taped at television station WEWE.

The team, the school has permission and Chris Ulicky, 11B's and Larry Boyd, 11B, a team of alternates is composed of Joyce Duffus, 12B, Holly Krosheusko, 11A, and Richard Balch, 11B.

The six "Academic Areas" were chosen from a field of 15 on October 24.

Residing in Strongsville

Bo Diddley Ailing; New Ram Expected

By CAROL GAGE

"Bo-Diddley, Rhodes ram mascot, is living in a farm peacefully and quietly," states Mr. John Krebski, athletic director.

Bo, four-andleaht half years old, weighing 1,200 pounds, is residing on a farm in Strongsville under the care of Mr. John Krebski.

THE BOOSTER CLUB and former Boys Leaders Club, purchased Bo at the Boone County Fair in 1962. Because of his outstanding pedigree, Bo has been mated several times, and sized 11 ewes and one ram, which died.

"Bo is mating now and is due for a ram," predicts Mr. Craig.

Thanks to Mr. Craig, if Bo does sire a ram, the school has permission to carry on the Rhodes tradition by transporting him to football games next year.

A large rear across his forehead distinguished Rhodes' mascot. This because Bo's horns had begun to impair his vision and press on his eye and forehead which, according to a Medina County agent, might cause Bo to go mad. An operation removed part of Bo's horns.

BECAUSE OF POOR HEALTH and the series of operations, Mr Craig will not permit Rhodes to take Bo to football games. Rhodes has asked Mr Craig for use of a different ram, but Mr Craig feels his rams are not tame enough.

New Les Horvat Trophy To Go to Senior Gridder

The most outstanding Rams gridder will be awarded the new Les Horvat Trophy during half time of the Rhodes-West Tech game, November 11. The award was conceived at the last Booster Club meeting, and was accepted unanimously by the members.

Several female members will do presentation honors. Naming the award is principally the work of Coach Templin.

Selection of the recipient will be based on individual contributions to team spirit as well as being a team member, according to Mr. Julius Pravilte, Booster Club advisor.

Lester Horvat graduated from Rhodes in 1959 and continued to play football at Ohio State. While he was at OSU, he made All-Americans, the only All-American ever to hail from Rhodes.

"I think the idea is tremendous," states Mr. Pravile, "it should be inspirational to all players in years to come."

RAM MASCOT, Bo-Diddley, poses with Barb Becker, 11B at Bo's Strongsville residence.

Principals Tour Classes, NEOTA Meets Tomorrow

By LINDA DEMALINE

Visiting Rhodes today is the Northeastern Ohio Principal's Discussion Group. Each principal will receive a schedule of classes and will tour the ones that interest him. Tomorrow the members and teachers will attend the NEOTA meeting while students have a day's vacation.

Mr. J. J. Stillinger, principal, is secretary of the Principal's Discussion Group. This organization was started in 1964 and consists of 40 members, but only 25-30 are expected to come, according to Mr. Stillinger.

AFTER TOURING the school, the principals will have a two-hour discussion of mutual problems and interests.

"The purpose of this group is to give the principals a chance to meet in some school to observe instruction programs," states Mr. Stillinger, "and to inquire about any new methods or courses of the success of others."

Members of the NEOTA will have a schedule of three area meetings to attend tomorrow. Cleveland is expected to have 10,000 teachers who will meet in meetings in Akron and Mahoning County, according to Mr. Robert Barclays Jr., executive secretary of NEOTA.

DR. MARCUS BACH, Director of the Foundation for Spiritual Understanding, will hold the list of speakers for the Cleveland meeting. He will appear at the Public Auditorium with The Cleveland Orchestra.

"The Voice of Gemini Goals," Paul Haney, will speak at the Cleveland Sheraton Hotel, The Cleveland Press.

Pastor to Speak At PTA Meeting

Reverend R. H. Standley, Pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ, has been scheduled to speak at the PTA meeting on November 17, at 7:30 p.m. It has been decided that "Let's Go to Other Countries."

"Let's Know Our Parental Responsible." was the topic of Juvenile Court Judge, Walter J. Whitlock, when he appeared as the PTA's guest speaker on October 26.

A rummage sale is also planned for December 1.

A bake sale was held in 600 on the night of Open House, October 26.

The traditional Tea and Style Show is planned for December 21. The program will begin at 130 p.m.

PUBLIC LIBRARY will plan a program on library services and travel.

"MEMBERS OF THE Future Teachers of America Club will usher again this year at the meeting," says Mr. Stillinger.

The NEOTA has appointed Robert Barclays Jr. as the first full-time executive secretary. He replaces Mr. Arch Brown who has served as part-time secretary since 1969.
More Response

RHODES WAS PUT in a most embarrassing position at the rally held the Friday prior to the St. Ignatius football game.

When asked by the rally speaker to sing the Rhodes fight song and marching song, there was little response from the student body.

Those who do not attend football games or are not enrolled in music classes have no real opportunity to learn these tunes.

Orientation classes offer the most logical solution. However, the 1968's have so much information thrown at them in this course, that the songs will not get the needed emphasis.

A thought might be at the beginning of each semester, various class teachers require that their students learn and know these songs.

In this way, Rhodians could add to the spirit that we so often hear is lacking.

Editorial Policy

WHAT IS AN EDITORIAL? What does it try to do? The Review feels that some information on these questions will make Rhodes students better newspaper readers.

The editorial page represents journalism as practiced in the early days of "personal journalism," when the editor interpreted current events as he saw them. It is the voice of the newspaper. Important editorials are written by the editor himself, but most are written by regular staff members.

Critical editorials suggest improvement of situations, standards, or people, while others commend. Some editorials are written to sell an idea. Some are merely for entertainment.

The Review hopes students will remember that an editorial is the newspaper speaking, and will pay attention to what they read.

Editor's Mail Call - - - -

Dear Editor:

What ever happened to the Baromette? Why weren't they given new uniforms like the band and cheerleaders?

Many other schools have these marching groups and they add to the school spirit just as the cheerleaders do. I think it is a disgrace that this group was let to dwindle to nothing.

Linda Binning, 12B

Dear Linda:
The Baromette evidently were disbanded through the natural process of graduation. Certainly uniforms cannot be provided for a non-existent group. Is anyone willing to start the group again, secure a sponsor and work hard for at least six months perfecting routines? Your criticism is unfair. There are many factors involved when a group dissolves. Did you understand all of them?

"A class be free, be not reserved," remarks Mrs. Betty Palfy, biology teacher.

A stuffy class just will not do for her. In order to avoid this, Mrs. Palfy suggests that the classes should learn a few jokes, then let themselves go.

Mrs. Palfy enjoys teaching biology and working in the field of medical technology. However, these occupations share a part of her interests. One of these is older homes and convert them into places fit for resting or selling.

"Many Sunday afternoons have been spent painting and plastering," states Mrs. Palfy.

Another activity which takes up part of her time is her work in a factory. Her job is being a jack-of-all-trades for her husband's plastic firm.

"Education is what has taken up the greatest part of my life," she comments as an after thought.

Mrs. Palfy Enjoys Teaching, Renovates Old Home

This is the fourth year that Mrs. Palfy has been teaching biology here at Rhodes. She also taught at Carl F. Shuler Junior High School for one year and at North Boylston High School for one year.

This science scholar graduated from Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio. She then served one year's internship at the Cleveland Clinic. From there she furthered her education by attending night school at Western Reserve University.

For the past two summers, Mrs. Palfy has been a resident of Ohio State (June '67) attended now engaged in night school at Cleveland State University.

Her interest in medical technology has influenced her work in Lutheran Hospital as a substitute in the blood bank on occasional Saturdays.

This great enthusiasm for teaching that Mrs. Palfy possesses stems from a respected high school biology teacher who developed her talents in this field.

Mrs. Palfy does not intend to remain a biology teacher, however. Her plans for the future may include some work in medical technology.

But for now, her goals are "just to be happy and healthy."

SOGNS

Marching Song

Let's sing to the sky
The song of Rhodes High.
We're all for one, and one for all.
Our motto is to do or die.
Come blue and white
Keep up the good fight.
SOSO, SOSO, SOSO, SOSO, SOSO, SOSO.
We'll reach right on to victory.
Keep up the good fight.
Rhode high, the colors, all will see,
We'll reach right on to victory.

FIGHT SONG

Right the team across the field
Show them that Rhodes is here.
We will sing, why don't you?
Set the standards exceeding
With cheer over Rich, Rob, Rob.
Hit them hard and see how they fall.
Never let them get the ball.
Walt, Walt, the gang's all here.
Let's work the old step now.

WVTV TV Programs Offer Change of Pace

By CAROL WEIDEMAN

After being involved in movie theory, political excitement, science fiction, thriller, and TV "experiments," you may be looking for a change of pace. If so, try turning in to WVTV, Channel 21, for a wide variety of other, cultural, sports and musical experiences.

"What's New?" is a regular program which might be described as an "educational variety show." This film exhibits everything from sailing to baroque music, to Biblical walks add greatly to the viewer's store of conversational topics.

A classroom-type situation is offered daily in "The WRU Telecourse." The two subjects being taught presently are "the Language of Judaism" and "Economic Principles and Problems." Although not particularly entertaining, the program can be stimulating to interested students.

"Folk Guitar" is one of several "how-to" series. Fundamentals of guitar are taught in a somewhat detailed lessons. The words and music to various well-known folk songs are also presented to would-be guitarists.

High school football highlights are periodically shown on WVTV. The coverage includes interviews with the coaches, video-tapes of many of the games, and reviews of sources and sound standings.

Parents Replace Students in Classes, 'Review' Reporters Collect Comments

By HELKEN FOHLD

Talk and laughter filled the lighted halls. Suddenly the bell rang, and quietly descended as doors were closed. It was a seemingly typical school day, except for one big difference. The faces which usually greet the teachers were replaced by parents.

LAST WEDNESDAY EVENING, parents in the school followed their children's schedule, and sat in on a sample class each period. And among the throng of confused parents were five Review reporters. Their mission—to evict drop on the conversations. They were "much appreciated," as pointed out by one faculty member.

"I see Mr. Turrella has his sneaky reporters stalking the halls again," commented Mrs. Carol Barnes, Home Ec. teacher.

In an advanced mathematics class Mr. Frank Scholl explained a difficult problem to his uncomprehending parental class, while unblinking midwives and fathers had much to say. "Are you kidding me?"

"WHAT'S HE TALKING ABOUT?" to which was replied, "I have no idea."

"Mr. Scholl," queried a father, "do you want us to feel sorry for our kids?"

In another part of the building, a class waited impatiently for their teacher, Miss Diane Scholl, who was a no-show.

"Where's Miss Scholl?" questioned a "student."

"I'm Miss Scholl," answered Mr. Hiram Folkman, entering at that moment.

DURING ANOTHER ONE of Miss Scholl's classes three students had been chosen as "beauties of the night."

Tim McElhaney, Jeff Poss, and Jeff Schill, 11B's, explained to their parents the English curriculum. Among the students were Mr. and Mrs. Poss.

"How much time should be spent on homework for this class?" Mrs. Poss asked (strangely enough) of her son.

"About 15 minutes," replied the temporary teacher. At a look from Jeff, the other too readily agreed.

THROUGHOUT THE EVENING, Review reporters scribbled feverishly, writing down the comments they overheard.

"I'd like to see Mr. Hires, the job counselor."

"I was generally interested in hearing what teachers offered to explain about the instruction program," states Mrs. Stillinger, Sophomore.

The whole evening was summed up by Mrs. Hirs.

"It's marvelous!"

United Appeal Surpasses $2,500, School Tops Last Year's Record

By GAYLE NIEHANER

Rhodians surpassed their United Appeal goal of $4500 this year. A total of $2,516.14 was collected in the campaign which began Friday, Oct. 21. An average gift of $1.79 per person this year exceeded last year's $1.46 per person contributions by 26c per student.

Top three homes with largest percentage in the school were Mr. Harry Sett's 11B boys' home room in first place with 77.4%; Mr. Richard Wolin's 12B boys' homes with 62.5% and Miss Darlene Hiranda's 10A girls' homes with 52.5%.

Miss Marie Luneau, Home Economics Department head, was in charge of the campaign for the sixth consecutive year.

"More important than the money contributed," states Miss Luneau, "is the fact that the dollars will be working to help people all year."

Gridders Out to Stop Holy Name for Second Victory

Pacers to Run in Senate Meet, J.V.'s Capture Third at District

By BOYCE WATKINS

Closing the 1966 season, the Rhodes cross country team will compete in the Senate Meet on November 12, at Ridgwood Country Club.

Last year the Harriers captured third place in this important meet. The Harriers were paced by this year's captain, Jim Blockidge, who took 13th in the meet.

"THE BOYS who will run in the Senate Meet will have to work hard in order to place well in this meet," comments Coach Steven Tolovskiy.

In the District Meet held on October 22, the Varsity Harriers placed 16th and the Junior Varsity team captured third.

Heading the Varsity Harriers were juniors Jay Johnston and Jerry Wilson who captured 34th and 39th respectively.

JUNIOR RUNNERS Brian Cantor and Mike Grunewalz placed 7th and 14th respectively in J.V. competition.

On October 27, the Harriers downed Lincoln and West in their final dual and triangular meet of the season. The final score of this meet was Rhodes 58, West 43, and Lincoln 47.

Senior Jim Blockidge captured first in a course record time of 11:17. He was followed by Jerry Wilson, 7th, Dick Struble, 5th, and Jerry Jerman, 15th.

In the Bowling Green Relay the Harriers captured 10th. Five individual performances were turned in by freshmen Jim Blockidge and Dick Struble, who had times of 1:50.2 and 1:53.2 respectively.

Ram Offense Must Roll To Secure Another Win

By JEFF FORTÉ

Hosting Holy Name will be the Rams in search of their second victory tomorrow, 7:30 p.m., at John Marshall field. The Namers meet the Rhodes gridders with an overall record of five wins and two losses as compared to the Rams' seven losses and one win.

It was TD time October 15 when the Rams posted their first win of the 1966 season with a 10-0 shut-out over Lincoln.

LAFVE is the first quarter, Ram fullback Ken Rustia battled his way 81 yards for the first score. In the second half, the Rams exploded once again when center Pete Michaels plastered a Lincoln half carrier in his own end zone for the safety. Lincoln kicked off. Halfback Gary Krops then grabbed the pigskin and cut loose on a 30-yard punt for the Rams' second six-pointer. This scoring rampage was topped off by quarterback Mike Givendie, who made good on a two-point conversion attempt.

The final score was Rhodes 16, Lincoln 0.

"The team, as a whole, made a real fine performance in the game," states head coach Jim Templin.

THE RHODES Homecoming Game, October 22, ended in defeat for the Rams as they were stopped by the St. Ignatius Wildcats. The Ram defensive unit held the Wildcats to one touchdown in the first half of play.

Jr. Varsity Smashes West High, Suffers Defeat at Hands of Holy Name

By HARRY MARANTIDES

The Rhodes J.V.'s overcame an eight point deficit to beat the West High Cowboys, 18-14, in a game played October 20 at Rhodes field.

However, it was a different story when Holy Name came to call last Thursday. The offense never got started and the Namers played possession type football as the Rams absorbed their second defeat, 35-6.

QUARTERBACK Chuck Rado started the scoring in the West game with a one-yard plunge into the end zone. After West scored two points to take the lead by eight points, fullback Nick Defoe cracked through the line for a three-yard touchdown run.

Both Ram scores were set up by alert defense via fumble recoveries. The defense again aided the offensive attack when linebacker Rich Amrich fell on a loose pigskin in the end zone for the final score of the game.

THE ONLY bright spot in the battle against Holy Name was a 60-yard touchdown dash by Bill Dobrowich with an intercepted pass. Key blocks thrown by Dave Muskat and Jim Maxwell enabled him to score easily.

At press time the results of yesterday's West Tech game were not available.

ATTENTION SENIOR BOYS - Beginning October 24, Rhodes gym classes have been tested twice a week.

On Mondays the Navy Test has been given and on Thursdays the reports are to be returned. Participation in these tests is mandatory. If for any reason, a test is missed, make-ups will be made during free periods Fridays, Mondays or Thursdays after school.

Congratulations to senior fullback Ken Rustia for being named to the Plain Dealer "Dream Team." For an outstanding individual performance in the Lincoln game, October 15. During the game, Ken made touchdown runs of 49, 99, and 6 yards, but the last two were called back because of penalties.

Leading the senior boys who took the October 19 Navy Test was Bob Baur with 171 points and on Thursday's Ranger test were Bob Nogal with 162 points, and Bob Zola, Jeff Milner, Norm Tubold and Jim Berger, who all had 100 points.

Mr. Gary Hagansburg, substitute chemistry teacher here recently, has pitched for the Minnesota Twins and has signed a contract with the Boston Red Sox, Gary's younger brother, Brian is a forward in the 1966-67 varsity basketball team.
