313 to Be Presented Diplomas at Commencement on Thursday

"The Individual and the State" will be the theme of the commencement program when 313 seniors will be graduated by the Rhode's Orchestra under the baton of Mr. Robert Bendall, instrumental music teacher.

The Pledge of Allegiance will be led by Jim Keefer, class president. Principal John J. Stiller will preside and the invocation will be given by Reverend Carl W. Keefer, pastor of Brooklyn United Presbyterian Church.

Graduating seniors, Joyce Duffula and Dick Strubbe will present an instrumental duet to the arrangement of "Third Duo for Clarinet and Bassoon" by Beethoven.

Under the direction of Miss Betty Naseif, history teacher, the top five seniors in the Student Class will give speeches revolving around the commencement theme. They are Diane Shinko, valedictorian Larry Kich, Kathy Guley, Jan McKimmin, and Joelyn Lowe.

The Senior Choir directed by Mr. Gilbert Van Nortwick will sing "Let All The Nations Praise the Lord," "Waters Ripple and Flow," and "More I Cannot Wish You." The Orchestra will accompany the Choir in "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Mr. Stiller will then present the class to Mr. Daniel O. Corvign, Board of Education member. Mr. Stiller will give the diplomas as the Orchestra plays the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance."

The singing of the "Rhodes Hymn" will conclude the commencement program.

"It is quite an honor to be selected for this tremendous scholarship," said Craig Mueller, who plans to attend Kent State University in the fall. "I’ll especially like to thank Mr. Peter Turella for all his help and assistance."

Pete Jedlick, sports editor of the West Tech Tattler, was named the June recipient of the award.

Senior Headcount

ATTENTION ALL you senior boosters, money collectors, bake-sale bakers, car washers, and general get-round-bindhind-the-scenes people. Stand up and be counted!

Perhaps you were not a class president, a reorder, or a club officer, but you were a necessary part of every organization. Where would clubs be without you? How would bake sales, car washers?

Where would officers be without people like you to work on their campaigns and vote for them? Where would teachers be if there was no one to remind them of an appointment, type out reports, or just straighten out those desks? And, where would the teams and cheerleaders be without you loyal, sighting fans?

The "Rhodes Review" would like to commend these seniors who have not been previously recognized. Your hard work and devoted time has not gone unnoticed. Although all your names cannot be listed and a personal thank you given to each of you, you were greatly appreciated by your family. The "Rhodes Review" salutes you.

Caution

SUMMER IS WONDERFUL — if you live through it. Unfortunately, too many people don't, because of simple carelessness.

Safety is twice as important in the summer because of the added hazards. These include more traffic, more children in the streets and more pedestrians. Driving requires exceptional caution.

However, highways are not the only danger areas. Sports, such as swimming, water skiing, and boating can also present fatal situations. The intelligent student realizes the difference between excitement and foolhardiness and acts accordingly.

The "Review" reminds all Rhodesians to use caution in their summer activities.

Rules are made to protect everyone. Only take one unnecessary, unhinging person to turn a happy summer into a tragedy. A safe summer is the best kind.

To all those who do not plan to act safely — the "Review" says good-bye.

Paperclips Provide Tools, Twingers, Fun

BY LOUIS LEHMAN

Seniors! Are you wondering how to make your pennies stretch through prom and graduation expenses?

Consider how much a box of paper clips can enhance living on a limited budget. For fifteen cents you can obtain enough of these handy little items to do a multitude of jobs.

One useful paper clip provides four inches of stiff wire useful for unsplitting glue bottles or salt and pepper shakers. The wire can also serve as an emergency string picture, a piece of a hat, or a holder for coloring Easter eggs.

The end can be sharpened to be made into a small screwdriver, and when squashed slightly can repair a little bit of wire too large to reach.

With a little skill, a paper clip may even solve your financial problems completely by enabling you to successfully pick a lock at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving.

Even if you are not too lucky with your paper clips, they will undoubtedly make your life more attractive and more fun. They make excellent nail cleaners and unique tie clips, hair clips, and earrings.

If you get a little bored, you can always make yourself a twinger and irritate your friends by snapping them. (shooting the clips with rubber bands is a good way to live up and off!) Incidentally, when cut into suitable lengths, one clip makes a top quality picket fence for your pet's playground.

Rhodes Review

12A's Tell Tales Of Past Experiences

BY CHRISTOPHER FRIGULL

After four years of trekking through the halls of Rhodes, seniors are anxious to face their new positions in life. They'll never forget though, some of the unusual experiences they've shared.

Jim Keetman — "Our annual football victories over Lincoln High." Linda Demelins — "In chemistry class, when Mr. Henderson asked, 'What is matter?' and I told him, 'Nothing the matter.' It happened three times.

Sandy Benes — "The time I slipped on a piece of lemon pie in the cafeteria and everybody applauded and cheered." Tom Zippelli — "The time Phil Burgos and I used the elevator and got rather panicky when we opened the elevator gate to see a rather high, very tall-looking man in the face and the elevator was stuck.

Judy Bercy — "Being 12A class president for four years.

Phil Burgos — "When the next in the mechanical drawing room collapsed, and there I was on the floor.

Sue McWilliams — "Celebrating Sue Garba's birthday at lunch and at the movies." Linda Bowling and Callie Cline — "Finding a fire extinguisher in our locker!" Greg Gahan — "The day when Ocelot sang for the P.T.A. and I wore two different-colored shirts.

Lesley Miller — "Physics with Mr. Brenner and me!"

Ginny Maloof — "Eating oranges in French class.

Annamarie — "The time I was 98 and I walked into the boys' john, but I never told anybody.

Sue Garba — "When Paul and I were on our hands and knees in the center hall cleaning up a basin of sawdust we accidentally spilled.

Did we scramble when we saw Miss Sauer hanging around?" Jim Dimitroff and Tom Hindemarsh — "Wrestling with Mr. Elkhart." Mary Emilianowicz — "Miss Manning saying, 'With your stupidity you'll get lost in the noise (underground subway) when you go to France next week.

Jan Ardelean — 'The time in 9th grade when Kathy, Belinda, Marcia and I did our Beetle act for entertainment during an all-star basketball game.

Celine Duraczech — 'When I fell in the girls' showers in gym.

Kathy Papp — 'Miss Milford took my lipstick away in Personal Regimen class, and had it on the next day.'

Greg Bunch — 'The center-hall blackouts.'

Kathy Galey — 'The time Brian put a sheep noisemaker in Joyce's purse in French and Mr. Hen couldn't figure out where the "baas" were coming from.

Jeff Forshee — 'Being basketball manager.

Pat Kornichak — 'Winning 'All-American' during all year.'

Editors' Mail Call

Dear Editor:

Rhode doesn't have a baseball team, or at least intramural baseball for boys' home rooms.

Ray Balogh, 11B

Dear Father:

The question is brought up each year. Due to the shortness of the season and the generally inclement weather, it is almost impossible to form a baseball team and be ruled out for five. In order to adequately evaluate a team, you must play at least twenty games.

Mr. Kresson

Dear Editor:

I have a double class period, and we would like to know if that 5 minutes between class periods is ours or the teachers'.

Linda Hartman, 11A

Dear Linda:

It is up to the individual teacher whether or not the minutes are yours or not. If you would have worked that amount of time each school day, at the end of the semester, you would have gained 7½ hours working time.

Staff

Dear Editor:

Why don't all the teachers give their students the class assignments for the week, instead of each night? That way, the students wouldn't have so much homework on one night and none on the other. On the weekends we would be free of all homework.

Maureen Jackson, 11B

Dear Maureen:

The idea in itself is all right, but what guarantee is there that the students will do their homework and not let it pile up for the last night?

Local Boys Make Good

'Cities Squires' to Break Nationally

By CHRIS ULLICKY

Rhodes High is the home of a local band with a chance to make it nationally. Who would have thought it possible?

Well, the Cleveland Press did in their May 5 Showtime when they listed The Squires as one of seven Cleveland bands possessing the stuff to follow in the footsteps of the Choir and Basketville Hounds on the road to recording fame.

THE BAND is represented by two Rhodesians, Greg Burnett and Bill McCracken, both sophomores, with Jim Nickerson, Gus DaAngelo, and Jerry Colvin from Valley Forge as their patrons. Burnett is the man on the tom-toms while Greg doubles as lead singer and man of several instruments.

"Our's is a part of an all new sound, the Cleveland Sound," states Burnett. "We feel very fortunate to be placed among the ranks of such notables as the Choir and the Hounds."

Their manager, Jimmy Tiesta, also takes care of the Hounds, and just last week released the Squires’ first record. Tiesta wrote the top side of the Tema and You’re Too Young and leader man Brinker composed the flip, "Lonely Boy."

"OUR BAND, though, declares McCracken, "was playing the WIXY school spirit concert for Lake- wood High."

The group believes that the future of the band is rather bright. Their record seems to have what it takes to hit, and perhaps in the very near future Rhodes may stand a great chance of being the home school of one of the leading pushers of the Cleveland Sound, the all new City Squires.

Relay Team's Time of 3:24.8 Breaks Ram Record at Adams

By HARRY MARANTIDES

Despite a new school record set by the mile relay team, it couldn't finish higher than fourth place in rough competition during the State Meet held last Friday at John Adams Field. This meet marked the end of another season for the Ram cindermillers.

The old record of 3:26.1, set by Detlef Rosdick, Steve Koriat, Dan Marchak, and Rick Trela in 1965, was eclipsed by three tenths of a second by the team consisting of Dave Koray, Jim Blocksdale, Jay Johnston, and Detlef Rosdick.

POLE VAULTER Bob Mizeszny also placed fourth in the Adams meet when he cleared the 11 ft. barrier. Due to a rigid pace set by state champ Glenville and fifth place finisher John P. Kennedy, Rhodes did not post much of a threat to the front runners any time during the meet.

Even though runner Dave Kozyl was hindered somewhat by a pulled leg muscle suffered during a practice session, the record-breaking mile relay team also took fourteenth place in state competition at Columbus, May 28.

Rhodes' time of 3:24.8 at Adams still was not fast enough to qualify for the state finals, according to Mr. Jim Zicker, head track coach. John P. Kennedy's mile relay team charmed the cinders to set a new state record at a blistering pace of 3:18.9 to win the event.

Various Activities Offered In New Sports Program

Besides the regular gym activities, various other sports, are now being offered in both boys' and girls' gym classes. According to Mr. Robert Sovery, lifetime sports, as they are called, include such activities as tennis, golf, fishing, and some track and field events.

These activities are known as lifetime sports because individuals can participate in them throughout life, even during retirement.

Equipment for these sports is not provided by the school. Each person must bring his own equipment if he wishes to participate.
