United Appeal Drive Begins Monday, 'Go to the Races' Is Campaign Theme

By GAYLE NETTHEIMER

"Go to the Races," theme of Rhodes' United Appeal campaign launched at a double assembly this morning, begins Monday and runs through Monday, October 23.

"The school goal," says Miss Marie Lanese, Home Economics Department Head and head of the campaign for the seventh consecutive year, is "$1.00 per person, but if Rhodians follow last year's trend, they will reach a goal of $1.20 per person."

STUDENT SPEAKERS at the assembly morning, Laura Zielinski and Richard Balch, 12A's, described their visits to United Appeal agencies this summer and talked of the importance of giving to United Appeal.

Each homeroom will have a car, running around the track to mark the progress the homeroom is making toward its goal. The race has been named the "Rhodes 2000" because of the $2000 goal school, according to Miss Lanese. This year the Greater Cleveland goal is $16,710.04, an increase of $2,200.04 over last year's goal. Of this amount, Rhodians contributed $22,014.64 or an average of $1.70 per person, placing the school fifth in contributions of the 100 senior high schools in greater Cleveland. Girls averaged $1.82 per person, boys averaged $1.01.

TOP THREE HOMEROOMS with the largest percentage in the school last year were Mr. Harry Seitz's 11B boys with 72%, Mr. Richard Weickart's 12B boys with 62%, and Miss Darlene Hird's 10A girls with 58%.

Contributions for the United Appeal support 152 Red Feather Agencies. A survey of the Rhodes area shows that in 1966, one hundred eleven persons were served by visits from the Visiting Nurse Association. Nineteen persons were assisted by Red Cross Disaster Services, and forty-seven people were served by the Cleveland Hearing and Speech Center. Three-hundred eighty families were assisted by the Red Cross services for Armed Forces and their families.

Seniors Balch, Kissig, Ulicky Are NMSCT Semi-Finalists

By ROGER PRAKAP

Chris Ulicky, Richard Balch, 12B's, and Tom Kissig, 12A, were selected as semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

"The National Merit Scholarship Test," states Richard Balch, "was supposed to be given to those students who are superior in leadership and academic achievement."

Balch's brother, Tim, also is one of the forty-seven students in Cleveland who attained the rank of semifinalist. Tim is studying at Lincoln High School, where he is the only semifinalist.

Chris Ulicky explained that the selection scores for all eligible students in each state are arranged and ordering in order to determine which students qualify as semifinalists. The number of semifinalists in each state equals that state's allocation. The states have different allocations, depending on population.

It's Academic Taped

Team Battles South, Brooklyn

By DON PARASKA

Representing Rhodes in the television quiz show, "It's Academic" will be Karen Zoller, 11A, John Beatty, and Chris Ulicky, 12B's. Ulicky will serve as team captain.

The program, sponsored by the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company, is taped for WEWS on October 2. According to Miss Annabelle Whalen, guidance counselor, the show will be televised October 28 at 7.25 p.m. on Channel 5.

Rhodes will be competing against Brooklyn and South High Schools.

Sixteen Rhodes students were originally recommended by the teachers to try out for team and alternate positions. These students competed at the Englewood Center on Chester Avenue. Here six students were chosen to compete against the city.

Working along with the team were alternates Marty Blank, 11B, Richard Balch, 12B, and Holly Kunz- ner, 12A. The group was coached by Miss Whalen and Miss Betty Nuss, history teacher.

This will be Rhodes' fifth appearance in the series, a record of three wins and one loss.

NHS Tutors

National Honor Society members are now offering tutoring services to students who need assistance in specific subjects. Any student who wishes tutoring should contact Mrs. Nico- letta Theodore, guidance counselor.

Rhodes PTA to Collect 'Maxim' Coffee Seals

For Purchasing Instruments, Uniforms, Music

Inner seals from Maxim Coffee Jars are now worth money to the Rhodes Instrumental Music Department. They will be used for the purchase of instruments, uniforms, and music, according to Mrs. G. R. Rosen, N.T. Music Chairman.

Each Maxim Coffee seal has a P.T.A. can collect, it will receive 25 cents. The seals may be given to any P.T.A. board member or placed in the P.T.A. box in the school office.

"This seems to be a very easy way to make money for the Instrumental Music Department," says Mrs. Rosen.

Faculty 'Retires'

Student Groups 'Take Over' Cafeteria

By KATHY YUNICH

Gone are the days of having a teacher peer over your shoulder at lunch time. Yes, Rhodians, now you can eat without the tension of being watched. This year the student-run cafeteria is fully instituted.

The student-run cafeteria was formed by the student council, with the cooperation of all recognized student organizations last semester. Their combined efforts make up the cafeteria committee.

Each lunch period has two chairmen in charge. They are Karen Cummings and Lynn Malmiah, 12A's, fifth period; Todd Eggler and Gab Stevenson, 12A's, sixth period.

"The Student-Run Cafeteria is slowly but surely affecting everyone. The effectiveness is up to the individuals themselves in the lunchroom state equals Gall.

All of the chairmen agree that the majority of students are willing to cooperate. The minority's views are more evident, however. Trays have been left on the tables, and garbage thrown on the floor.

The official word from the office is that the discontinued table-pounding, which some students call rallies, jeopardize the future of all organized school rallies.

"We had some complaints from the seventh period study hall about noisy tables and the cafeteria floor," comments Karen. "We need a lot more help and the full cooperation of the student body," she adds.

Nine College Representatives

Consult Interested Seniors

Representatives from nine colleges will be at Rhodes to meet with all interested seniors. The schedule is as follows: Hobart University, Oct. 18, fourth period; Wells College, Oct. 19, eighth period; Marietta College, Oct. 20, eighth period; Valparaiso University, Oct. 24, third period; Western Reserve University, Oct. 30, eighth period; Miami University, Nov. 1, fourth period; Earlham College, Nov. 1, fourth period; M.I.T., Nov. 3, third period; Elmhurst College, Nov. 14, sixth period. Students will meet in the conference room of the guidance office.

Rhodes Review, October 10, 1967
Selfishly Donated?

Every year, appeals are made, pressure is exerted, and various tricks are tried to convince Rhodesians to give generously to the United Appeal. In some homerooms, collections start Monday afternoon; in others, last minute collections take place. Records are kept of each student’s contribution, and those who can not afford to give the amount set for each individual by the homeroom may easily be embarrassed.

Why is all this done? To win the homeroom race, of course! Everyone must work hard so that Rhodes can be number one and have a record to be proud of.

Isn’t this rather selfish giving? Should these things really be necessary in order to collect vitally-needed money in one of Cleveland’s wealthiest cities?

It is true that Rhodes students, themselves, may use United Appeal services in the form of first aid or life saving courses, Y-programs, or emergency blood. But they should also be concerned about the handicapped, children from broken homes, disaster stricken families, and many others.

Education should not consider it a privilege to see that sufficient aid is available for anyone needing help. This can be done through your gift to United Appeal.

Be a Good Sport

Fair play in games and in daily practice, is what sportsmanship is all about. The Cleveland Press is offering area high schools the chance to be rated on their sportsmanship on the field and attendance at games.

Schools will be graded according to their student participation at each game. A Press Sportsmanship Trophy will be awarded to the top rating high school.

Local boisterous yells and booping when a disadvantage is placed on the Rams, is not true sportsmanship. Neither is cheering when an opponent is injured. The Rams may lose but will benefit by this and may even suffer a penalty.

Rallies have proven that Rhodes has the most loyal pep spirit. The teams and the coaches try hard, and we have every reason to be proud of them.

Let us show our team we care and also show students of other high schools that we are proud, that Rhodes, students who do participate and practice good sportsmanship. With a little effort, we can be recognized.

Chinese ‘Year of the Ram’ May Mean Victory, Calendar Foresees Bright Future for Athletes

By HARLEY MARSTANDS

Could the Chinese have something to do with the performances of Ram athletic teams this year? The probability is there because this year on the Chinese calendar is the Year of the Ram.

To test if this, the Chinese calendar was considered a capital crime against society, punishable by death and strictly enforced by the government. The students themselves did not dare to defy the rule of the torrent.

The calendar is based upon a 60 year cycle which means that Rhodes High will not experience Ram Year until the 21st century. Could the calendar have some special significance, some extra surge which only it can foretell in the Ram’s immediate future? It should have an effect — 60 years is a long time to wait.

It could forecast a victory over Ensigns this year in football, a city championship team to basketball, having a few charges win some medals in competition at Columbus, or it might bring luck to the cross-country or track team in state and regional meets.

With skill, determination, the desire to win, and a little luck, at least one of those goals could be reached by Rhodes High. The Year of the Ram may even bring glory to another sport—a Super Bowl victory for the Los Angeles Rams.

Editors Mail Call . . . . . . Dress Code

Dear Editor:

The biggest farce I have seen in quite a while is the Student Council of this school.

Recently, the representatives of the student body voted on the dress code, only the issue was brought before the students prior to the voting.

I cannot imagine how these representatives were able to vote on such an important matter while the persons they were voting for were ignorant of the entire affair.

In regards to the dress code itself, I also consider it to be a farce.

Why the student council should bother itself with such a thing is beyond me. It is impossible for the council members to be selected. It is something that is to be seen not only when the team wins, but then the team loses, it is not seen only at athletic events but also in the halls, in our classes, in the cafeteria, in study halls, and in the common rooms.

A dress code here at Rhodes serves a constructive purpose; it aims at promoting a mood an atmosphere where learning can take place under the best possible conditions. It aims at eliminating only those aspects of dress which distract from the educational processes and from the development of a constructive school spirit.

In regard to the workings of the James Ford Rhodes Student Council, it should be remembered the functioning of any legislative body is only as good as its representatives. These representatives are selected by the homerooms and speak for the homerooms —this should be kept in mind when Council members are being selected. I cannot recall any legislative body that has taken all of its issues to its constituents and asked for their feed back before acting; so how can the Student Council be expected to do so?

Ram Mascot Carries on Old Tradition, Bo-Diddley II Is Pigskin Rally Rouser

BY MARY CHARYAT

Bo-Diddley II, a two-year-old, one hundred and thirty pound ram, is taking over as reigning ram mascot of the Rhodes football team.

Worth around eighty dollars because of his pedigree, Bo-Diddley II was given to Rhodes by a farmer in Medina. Bo is to be returned to his home on the farm after each football season according to Mr. Nick Lupson, vice-president of the Boosters Club.

THE ORIGIN. Bo-Diddley II was bought by the Boosters Club at the Bexar County Fair in 1962. He is not allowed to attend any games because of his wild condition. Bo has undergone two operations for the removal of his horns, which had been impairing his eyesight.

Bo-Diddley is resting on a farm in North Royalton stated Mrs. Richard Craig, the wife of Bo’s caretaker. Bo is participating in a blood donation program for scientific research.

Taking care of Bo at the games are Bill Lupson, and Pat Dever, 11A’s, and Rich Repasyznick, and John Legson, 1B B’s. Bo-Diddley II’s regular residence is Kaul’s Greenhouse on Schaaf Road.

“I HOPE THAT the kids approve of the ram,” says Mr. Lupson. “I’d like to see more enthusiasm in the halves and to see more kids come down and pet him.”

Bo II wares the blue and white jacket-blanket made for the original Bo-Diddley by Mrs. Betty Bausohn, Boosters Club member.

Any person wanting to take care of Bo-Diddley II during a half may contact Mr. Lupson for permission and directions.

Parramdale Aids Troubled Youngsters, Center Offers Speech, Audio Therapy

BY COLLEEN SUMMERS and LAURIE ZIELINSKI

Every fall, leaves turn red and gold, and students return to school, and greater Clevelander aid centers to support the Red Cross and Red Feather agencies through United Appeal contributions.

Two agencies that rely on the United Appeal for their existence are Parramdale and the Cleveland Hearing and Speech Center.

PARRAMDALE PROVIDES residential treatment for disturbed, dependent, or neglected Catholic children. The Sisters of Charity of St. Augustine live with these children and give them love, understanding, and attention.

In the Parramdale school, special help is given to slow learners and to students behind in their schoolwork due to problems at home.

Baseball, badminton, basketball courts, swimming pool provide outdoor exercise. Indoor activities include the children’s band and choir. Wood shop and home economics classes teach the youngsters useful skills.

PARRAMDALE’S PURPOSE is to care for each child and prepare him to return to his own home when his parents are able to care for him or to be placed in a foster home.

The Cleveland Hearing and Speech Center located near Western Reserve University serves members of the community who have hearing or speech impediments. Young children attend classes to overcome lip-reading, stuttering, and break in speech. Hard-of-hearing youngsters use hearing aids and earphones during special sessions aimed at improvement of speech habits.

THE LOST CORD CLUB offers special speech programs for anyone who has lost his vocal cords as a result of surgery and can respond to treatment.

Hearing tests are taken by Golden Aces who have hearing losses and hearing aids are recommended if necessary.

The Joint cooperation of the Red Cross and the 332 Red Feather agencies through United Appeal makes possible the operation of Parramdale and the Hearing and Speech Center.

O.T. stands for Occupational Therapist. The O.T. helps the injured or disabled patient to help himself. It involves the pattern in work and play activities. The O.T. helps him regain physical health while also restoring his sense of usefulness and independence.

For instance, say our quarterback bears muscles around his elbow that has pain after the Q.B.?

Yes, by helping Mr. Football build two strength and coordination in his arm and fingers. The O.T. must start him doing. leather work and model building, later moving on to working and dart throwing. Hell be toughened in no time!

So rehabilitation name the game.

Ram Sports
October 13, 1967

Frosh Beat South, Seek Second Win
Coach Mark Ladever will send his victory-hungry freshmen gridpals against Gleeville High next Wednesday, hoping for a second Ram victory.

With fullback Frank “Little” Zomia scoring the game’s only touchdown on a 13-yard sweep, the Rams beat the South Flyers for their first victory.

The Ram offense dominated the entire game with the defense complementing the offense. The Flyers never got to see what the Rhodes side of the 60-yard line looked like until the last play of the game, when South reached the 30.

The Rams in the game against John Marshall were not available at press time.

Rams Tagged With 0-4 Record, Injuries Plague Offense, Defense
By BARRY MARANTIDES
Two foes will oppose the John Marshall Lawyers in tonight’s game — the Friday the 13th jinx and the Rhodes Rams. Despite an 0-4 record, hard hitting and blocking will bring a Ram victory, predicts Coach Jim Tempin.

Marshall is going into tonight’s contest fresh from a 14-0 victory over the West Tech Warriors in a contest played last Friday. However, Marshall had ample scoring opportunities as Tech fumbled six times.

“If you don’t block and tackle, you don’t win,” comments Coach Jim Tempin. “The loss of tackle Frank Trepka and back Ralph D’Amico really hurt us,” the coach added. “Ron Amrich has a possible torn cartilage in his left knee, which definitely will hurt the defensive secondary.”

Rhodes High will try to lengthen Lincoln’s present losing streak of 23 games to 24 in another Senate game to be played at Rhodes’ Field next Saturday.

Speedster Willey Avery poses as Lincoln’s big offensive threat as he has already carried more than 83 and 86 yards. The latter was a kickoff return against St. Ignatius.

Rams Out to Avenge Ignatius Defeat, J.V.’s Drop Second Contest, 20-18
By MIKE MAYO
Revenges is the motive for a J. V. victory when Ignatius arrives at Rhodes next Thursday at 4 p.m. Last year, the Wildcats ran the score to 86-8, with an awesome display of offensive and defensive play.

Against Marshall, Rhodes led the game in every department except the score as the Lawyers managed to outscore the Rams, 18-10. The Rams picked up 255 total yards and had the edge in first downs, 13-8, in the October 3 contest.

AFTER THE FIRST Marshall possession, which on which the Lawyers scored, the final half was all Rhodes. The Rams scored three touchdowns, two in the second quarter.

Fullback Rich Repusynski and line-backer Ron Herting shared in the Rams scoring. Repusynski scored twice on runs of one and seven yards and Herting intercepted a Lawyer pass and went 54 yards for the TD.

HELPING J. V. COACH Tom Ehlert with the team this year are assistant coaches Mr. Ed Everett, and Mr. Allan Finkler.

Preствие Bulletin
RAMS — 36, LINCOLN — 0
The scoring went as follows: Rich Kozminski’s 19 yard jamb with Ray Chinchilla conversion run; Foul Gap went 38 yards with a Ron Bukwald pass; Rich Kozminski again with a 29 yard pass with Paul Raiser adding the two points; Ianman Steve Erret intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards for a TD; Chinchl crashed in for two more; and Nick Zabinski ran 45 yards for the last tally on a halfback reverse.

Gym leaders are setting up ping-pong and bounhtown tournaments to be held during free half of lunch periods. Physical education instructor, Mrs. Frances Montgomery has made plans for the program to start Monday.

Fifteen bowling teams have been formed and girls have started Senate competition at Memphis Lanes every Monday night after school, Mrs. Morrisey believe that the team consists of Kathy Pelletti, Debbie Miller, Claudia Schelar, and Cindy Metzer are excellent prospects for taking the City Meet to be held in December.

Basketball city-wide tournaments will be held later this month at West Tech. This is a joint activity, with both girls and boys participating in games. Mrs. Sevy acts as coach for the teams.

A Leader’s Play Day, held Wednesday, lasted four girls football teams from John Marshall, West Tech, Lincoln, Piner, and Brooklyn High Schools. At presstime, results of the games were not available.

The THE OTHER SENIORS who help make up the mainstay of the team are Bryan Sperry, Jim Glaser, Wayne Miller, Lynn Hutt, Brian Carter, and Maynard Braston.

“Although these boys may not be in the top places, they do provide moral support and at times may determine which team wins a meet,” says Coach Tekey. “Most of them have improved greatly and may eventually move into the top six.”

He believes the chances of the team for the district and senate meets have not improved. Unless they show great effort in dual and triangular meets their chances might even be lower.
