DECA Introduced By Mr. DiScipio

BY JUDY NICHOLAS

Instead of having the secret organization U.N.C.E.E., Rhodes has its own organization, D.E.C.A. For the people who don’t know what this organization is, it is Distributive Education Clubs of America. This club is headed by Mr. Richard DiScipio and is a combination of learning and working.

D.E.C.A. helps to train people to work in the Distributive Education Program. It is on the national, state and local level. Seniors belong to this organization and the only requirement is that the student be in distributive education.

"Distributive Education Clubs of America give the students an opportunity to get involved in business and to find out what his future line of work will be," states Mr. DiScipio.

Social Security Benefits Available to Students

The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Social Security Administration has revealed that educational institutions such as Rhodes are excellent sources of locating potential heirs whose mothers died while insured under social security.

"Depending on the mother’s age at the time of her death, as little as one and one-half years or as many as forty-one and a half years of work credits earned in the past 30 years, is all that is necessary now to qualify her surviving children for benefits."

This still holds true even if they are presently residing with and being supported by their father.

For further information talk to Mr. Herman Hann, student advisor.

Open House Procedure Supported, Challenged

By PAT POST

This year’s "Open House" held Thursday night, October 24, brought many parents to Rhodes and produced various comments.

"Fine! Wonderful! Terrible!" was the comment from one father.

"It was a wonderful program," stated Mrs. Berednan.

Parents were pleased to speak with their children’s teachers and had numerous comments:

"There just wasn’t enough time," related Mrs. Joan Mayher. "I’d prefer it to be longer."

"It’s wonderful, much better than last year because you get to see more teachers," commented Mr. and Mrs. George Stefan.

Other parents felt following their child’s schedule was better because they were unable to meet all of their children’s teachers.

There were other various conflicting comments on the total program:

"I thought last year’s procedure was better," related Mrs. Bindermangel. "It was too crowded and confused this time."

"Better than last year," was the comment from Mrs. Janiak and Mrs. Grayshaw.

"We were very pleased with the attendance," stated Mr. Stillinger, principal. "We don’t realize, though, that not everyone likes the same type of ‘parent’s night’ so we plan to vary the programs from year to year."

A father, who remains anonymous, summed up the evening:

"It doesn’t matter to me how it’s run. I came for the apple cider—and it wasn’t strong enough!"
Skirt Lengths Outdated

Most students and adults of this area believe that the skirt lengths of cheerleaders and majorettes are outdated and need to be changed moderately with the trend of today's fashions. The Rhodes Review agrees that a change is due, but the reason for no results lies in the fact that the wrong approach has been taken.

During the past few weeks at Rhodes, many tears have been shed and although this newspaper feels somewhat sympathetic toward these girls, who were included in the "skirt controversy", few students have taken the time to learn the truth facts involved in this problem.

The Senate rules state that majorettes, cheerleaders, drill teams etc., must wear skirts which come to the top of the knee cap. These rules, whether or not they are satisfactory, were broken, and in the process a destruction of school property occurred. While the Review may not agree with the standards of the Senate rules, it would like to point out that those involved in violating these rules showed lack of good judgment. This newspaper understands that the girls are interested in their appearance and would like to voice their complaints in

PTA Supports

Parents, teachers and neighbors of James Ford Rhodes High School are supporting the students through the P.T.A.
The members have put in many hours toward baked goods, faculty lunchrooms, open house, elections, and fund raising projects for various departments. This organization has grown from a small interest in the students and future of Rhodes.

For too long, the P.T.A. has continued to give support without recognition. The "Rhodes Review" would like to take this opportunity to express the gratitude of the student body and show that Rhodes knows the P.T.A. not only exists, but does so actively.

Welcome?

It seems that Rhodes has developed a rather well-organized welcoming committee for girls entering the breezeway each morning.

These "Breezeway Romes" never fail to be at their stations each morning and always greet the girls with "kind" words, "friendly" stares, and enough smoke to give anybody cancer. Unimportant, as they may seem, these actions have, and still do, upset the young ladies that pass through the breezeway to reach school.

It is suggested by the Rhodes Review that this practice of "hanging around" the breezeway be discontinued in the future to avoid any necessary steps being taken.

Hopes of getting results. The fact remains that Senate rules cannot be changed through the school office. The problem must be presented to those in charge downtown.

The problem can be remedied in other ways. If the school, along with outside supporting groups, worked together, steps might be taken to get what is wanted, diplomatically. Through discussions and letters from people who are genuinely interested, the possibilities of revising Senate rules are favorable. If the cheerleaders, majorettes, and Rainettes want results, and if the student body wants to support these groups, they must work for it TOGETHER.

Editor's note:
Steps have been taken as of pretermine by the administration and Band boosters, in investigating this situation. A questionnaire has been forwarded by the school board to all the Senate schools asking the school's recommendation in changing the regulation in regard to length of skirts.

'Summtree' by Rita Vanck

"Summertree," playing at Drury Theatre until November 16, is the first play written by the promising, 23 year old Ron Cowen.

The play was beautifully written and presented. It was very contemporary, very today, and very personal.

"Summertree" deals with issues of all of us as young adults have encountered: the Vietnamese war, the futility of searching for one's identity, and accomplishing one's goals in a society that demands conformity, and the anguish of parents and children who cannot communicate.

The play spans the spectrum of a young man's memories, the past, and the tragedies. The play changes mood as quickly and completely as the word "summertree" changes to sound line "cemetary" when you say it aloud a few times. The play is so personally relevant that you will hear the actors saying things you have said, and you will share their emotions and frustration.

The three theatres of the Cleveland Playhouse, Drury and Brooks Theatres on East 86 and the Cleveland 77 Theatre are promoting student interest in plays with special student rates, and play especially meaningful to students.

Not all plays are archaic and stuffy and boring. If "Summertree" sets the standards for all the plays the Cleveland Playhouse will present, they will be thoroughly sensitive, refreshing, and enjoyable.

By Ron Paraska

ALUMNI NEWS...Lee Arpian, '52, won a trip to Puerto Rico and $500 in a contest recently...Craig Mueller, January '67 is now Young Co-ordinator for the campaign of Bill Petro who is running for office in the 20th district...Mary Januzzo '65 made the Dean's list at Miami University...Janice McKimmie June '67 is spending her independent study period at Smith College, campaigning in New York for Congressional candidates...Mike Goodrich, January '67 made the Dean's list at Miami University.

WEDDING BELLS AND RICE...for Karen Pietrany '65 who will marry Wendell Gaggero in April...Jackie Rodford, June '65 married Louis Cardinale on August 10.

FIRST RICE, NOW RATTLE...Dennis Cribes, January '64 and Chris Smith June '65 are expecting a new addition to their family sometime in December...Billy Harmon '64 and Sue Frenchik are now whistling "And baby makes three."

CONGRATOS TO...Richard Kennedy, 12B, Daniel Pukack, 12B, Janet Belsey, 12B, Jo Ann Mesmier, 12B, who are a part of the Declan High Electric Illuminating Company to attend the 1968 National Youth Conference on the Atom in Chicago...November 21-23, Jim Slatinsky, who was recently selected top baseball player for Class C in Cleveland...to the Junior Choir who finally got a chance to perform. They appeared at Open House sponsored by the P.T.A. and to Marc Amos, 12A, who received a special award for ten years of excellent gardening.

AN APOLGize...to Elaine Evans whose name was omitted in the United Appeal story. EXTRACURRICULAR FUN...as practiced by Anna Bilarinski, 11B, Emil Pikuza, Rose Udes, 10B; Dana Paraska, 10B; David Haney, 11B; and John Giga, 11B who attend science workshops at the Supplementary Education Center...Mr. Bernard Ward is allowing his Advanced Science students to use his biology lab after school for science fair projects free of charge.

A PLEA...from Dennis Czelusniak, 10A and Ken Walker, 10A would like to hear from anyone wishing to organize a ham radio club here at Rhodes. (They will probably start underground P.A. announcement!) A GET "YELL" WISH...to Cheerleader Debbie Rice, 11B, who is recuperating from a knee operation.

A CONTEST...Be the first one to notice the four extra pages in this issue and you will win a free pass to the underground swimming pool.

Faculty Silhouettes

Mr. Hudak Likes To Travel

by Denise Salvatore

A willingness to learn, accepting one's self as an individual, and the ability to work with others are the requirements of a good student, according to Rhodes history teacher, Mr. Ronald Hudak.

"I feel that it is sometimes better for a student to drop out of school," comments Mr. Hudak. "The person sees how difficult it is to get a good job and the returns to school as a much better student."

Mr. Hudak says that he decided to become a teacher because "he feels the future of this country depends upon teachers. The shortage of teachers, the chance to see young people maturing into adults, and the students themselves also helped him to make his decision. His greatest influence, however, was his high school history teacher."

After graduating from Lincoln High, Mr. Hudak went on to Fenn College where he received his Bachelor of Arts Degree. He later attended Kent State University where he received his Master of Education Degree. While earning his Masters degree, Mr. Hudak was a staff assistant at Thomas Jefferson Jr. High and West High. He has also taught at Mooney Jr. High.

Besides teaching World, American, and Negro history here at Rhodes, Mr. Hudak is a guidance counselor at Cleveland State University.

"Negro History should be combined with American History", emphasizes Mr. Hudak. "Some students are not enjoying their history classes, while others expected it to be easier," he adds.

Being a member of a committee on human relations and the fact that he took various courses allows Mr. Hudak to teach this relatively new course. He plans, however, to take a course in Negro History this coming semester at Kent State.

Mr. Hudak is definitely in favor of lowering the voting age to eighteen. He states that if a person is old and mature enough to fight in his country's wars, he is ready to vote.

Traveling takes up much of Mr. Hudak's spare time. He has visited the eastern, southern, and western United States as well as Canada, England, and Italy. He adds that he enjoys Italian food very much.
Olympic Oak Here

Tree Is Gift of Owens

by Kathy McWilliams

In the courtyard at the rear of Rhodes is an oak tree that was a gift to the Nazi government. The Nazis presented the tree to Jesse Owens, Olympic track star, at the 1936 Olympic games. On September 23, 1937, the oak tree was dedicated to Rhodes at a ceremony held during half-time of the Rhodes-Lincoln game. Jesse Owens spoke briefly at the ceremony.

The world famous track star presented the tree to Neil D. Matthews, former Rhodes principal, while a member of the varsity track team held a flaming Olympic torch. Glen Wolff held the Olympic torch. Mr. Ellsworth Holden, varsity track coach of 1937, introduced Owens at the ceremony.

Many stories exist relating to Owens’ winning the oak tree. One concerns Hitler refusing to shake hands with Jesse Owens because the Negro proved the fallacy of Hitler’s master race theory.

Maxwell Plunges

‘HAH!’ A Strike

by Kathy Ockurozzi

Arrayed in his “gi,” Jim Maxwell, 12A, enters the dojo to begin a “karate,” Sound rather foreign? If interpreted from Japanese, this simply states that Maxwell, barefoot and dressed in his karate outfit, goes to the workout area to engage in fighting, using controlled tactics.

“I liked karate when I saw it performed, as a kid,” explains Maxwell.

This childhood enjoyment led to investigation and enrollment in a course of self-defense, using kicks, punches and strikes, called Karate.

Pappas Beats Skins

In Nationwide Corps

by Debbie Calvin

If you ever have the opportunity to see the Drum and Bugle Corps perform, you can be sure 12B Mike Pappas will be there, drumsticks in hand.

“The Drum and Bugle Corps is a non-profit organization that travels across the United States during the summer, competing with other corps,” explains Pappas, a four-year member. In 1960, the Corps traveled an estimated four thousand miles in which the flag squad of the Corps won the State Championship. Also, last year the drum quartet took the State Championship from the group that had won it the previous fifteen years.

The different corps in competition are judged on their marching, drumming, bugling, and the overall appearance. The Corps has instructors to teach drums and bugle, but a person must have some knowledge in reading music before joining.

Mike, who has been interested in music since third grade had never played the drums until he joined the Corps. Besides being in the Corps, Mike plays drums in the school band and trombone in the orchestra. He is also in Club 400 and a member of the wrestling team.

New Look

In a short span of two months, the Rhodes Review has “changed face” three times in order to give the students the best paper possible. The Review has changed it’s format even more than the changes initiated at the start of the year. The paper is now an eight-page publication, the addition of a center spread of pictures, more sports, editorials, and features.

Sorry kids, that the high glossed paper has been eliminated, but it was either that or a four-page issue with no pictures.

New UA Record

Set by Rhodians

"For the last five years Rhodes has collected over $2000 annually, reaching an all time high this year. This is indicative of a fine spirit of generosity among Rhodes students," said Miss Lanese of the recent United Appeal drive.

The grand total this year was $7206.65 which set a new record for Rhodes. Although this was the largest amount ever collected the per capita giving was not the highest due to the fact that Rhodes has more students enrolled this year.

This year’s per capita gift of $1.65 is the second highest ever achieved in the history of Rhodes. The record was set in 1966 with a per capita giving of $1.70.

"These new records are a sign that the students in Rhodes are really concerned about the welfare of others," stated Miss Lanese.

Five homecomings had over 3000: this year at Rhodes. In first place was Miss Pad’s 10A girls in the Library with a per capita gift of $8.09. This was another all time high in the history of Rhodes.

In second place was Mr. Link’s 11B boys in homecoming 400 with a per capita gift of $6.14. Coming in third in homecoming 132 were Mr. Ellbert’s 11A boys with an average gift of $4.91.

The 12A boys in Mr. Zickes’ homecoming in 209Z came in fourth with $4.26 as an average gift. In fifth place with $3.67 per capita gift was Mr. Lichnau’s 11B boys in homecoming 106.

The 11th grade class as a whole had the highest average gift of $1.77. Coming in second were the 10th graders with a per capita giving of $1.57, and last, the seniors with an average gift of $1.51.

Out of the fifty-three homecomings at Rhodes only ten did not reach their 100% goal. Only one of the ten was a girls’ homecoming.

“Are you tired of the rest—now taste the best!”

Connie’s Pizza

1618 SPRING ROAD
(AT BROADWAY)
749-1141

Mr. Link demonstrates the use of German beer stein.

ATTENTION SENIOR CLASS

AIRPAJAN MAKES CENT

GET ACTIVE WITH THE

ADULT BOOSTERS

CLUB OF RHODES

We’re the best

Contact—LAVERNE PRIZNER,
Membership Chairman—741-9538

Pictured at far left is Mike Pappas, 12B, member of the Drum and Bugle corps.
Rhodes Homecoming 1968

Football Flicks and Pics

EDITOR ............ HARRY MARANTIDES
NEWS EDITORS ........ ROGER PRAKAP, PAT BOHNER
EDITORIAL PAGE .... CLAUDIA MYLES
FEATURE EDITOR ..... MONICA MELUCH
SPORTS EDITOR ........ MIKE MAYO

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHERS ..............
BRUCE BREEM, BRUCE DWYNN
ART COORDINATOR ........ CHUCK FALCONE
CIRCULATION MANAGER ............ KATHY OCKUNZI
BUSINESS MANAGER ........... RON PARSASKA
ADVISOR .............. PETER TURELLA

"My girdle's killing me."

"I'm the coach? You give him the sc..."

"Bridge to Tower, Prepare to abandon ship."

"Look THAT up in your Funk and Wagnell's."

"I'll see you in my office first thing in the morning."

"Raymond, your mother's on the phone. She wants you home for supper."

"We have to stop meeting like this."

"Get up and I'll hit you again."
"We want the Flora Dories! We want the Flora Dories! We want..."

"Take that Schultz! Maybe that will get you going."

"You give him the scope."

"Hair they are. Rhodes alumni."

"... and your mother wears army boots!"

"I passed up Lawrence Welk to come to see THIS DANCE!"

"Look at the bug. Look at the bug. Look at the..."

"Time, after time, after time, after time..."

"You can't You two-timer!"
Gun Legislation Faces Rhodians

by Mary Charvat

"Guns don't kill people—people kill people. A gun is no better, or worse, than the one who uses it," explains Kent Newman, 12B, owner of three rifles and two revolvers.

In agreement with him are Jim Livingston, 12B; Bill Larkin, 12A; Ron Prizer, 12B; and Bill Sperry, 11B.

Livingstone, who uses his own funds to buy his guns, owns two. He is interested in all guns but specializes in handguns.

Also interest in all guns in general, Larkin has two pistols, a shotgun and a rifle.

Prizer is drawn by the sporting type of gun as well as military small arms. His collection consists of three shotguns, three rifles, and two pistols.

Sperry sports the largest gun collection, including twenty-two rifles and shotguns as well as eight pistols and revolvers.

Concerned about the growth of ill feeling for the gun, they felt that the elaborate plan of gun legislation, with regard to gun registration and greater fees, will not be successful in the control of accidents and crime rate involving guns.

"A fall from the top of a stairway can kill as easily as a gun," points out Larkin.

One suggested method, approved by the Rhodian gun owners, for the control of the gun accident rate are gun safety training programs, comparable to swimming or driving lessons, teaching respect as well as safe handling of guns to interested parties.

"Guns can be easily obtained illegally," says Prizer, to which Livingstone adds that a criminal can get a gun and do harm without bothering to register.

"The new decision to double the penalty for the use of a gun is a crime is excellent. It hurts only those who have violated the right to own one. The honest gun owner loses nothing," states Newman.

"The best thing the government can do is to faithfully follow this program," agrees Livingstone.

"If you get rid of the gun then you elevate the position of the knife or any other weapon," reminds Newman.

Meddling In Metal

Girl Invades Boys Shop

by Patty Marriott

"See what is happening in the metal shop," said the editor. There I was," said the editor. There I was 5'4" of female curiosity, in Mr. Zicker's 7th grade class, another world.

I saw a soda fountain with only two flavors. The soda fountain was the welding machine with tanks of oxygen.

The metal shop had a telescope from "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea." This really was a drill press.

Each boy had something on his head. One type looked like space helmets, the other type looked like scuba glasses.

There was an overgrown dentist's drill. I found out that this was a milling machine. It is used to cut metal.

The boys in the class reminded me of the "Seven Dwarfs" (sorry fellas), they all whistled. I can't say that Mr. Zicker reminded me of Snow White.

Dirk Peter, 11B, is in his second semester of metal. Dirk aspires to be an architectural engineer. He plans to attend the Cleveland Engineering Institute.

He wants to go to Australia where there is a big demand for iron workers.

I did find a story in the metal shop. I found a group of boys who were interested in what they were learning and were willing to teach what they know. I want to thank them.

Busy at work in the Metal shop are t/s, James Zicker, metal teacher, Ray Schillinger, 12A, at the drill press, and looking on is Review staffer, Patty Marriott.

"They get an understanding of metal," said Mr. Zicker about the boys enrolled in his class. The boys are working on stools and tool boxes. They are taught to machine, lathe, press and read a drawing.

Raymond Schillinger, 12A, was a big help. Raymond wants to be an iron worker, though his father owns a shop. An iron worker builds the framework of buildings. Raymond was working on a vice.

Class Rings

$18.95 Up

Sauer's Funeral Homes

INcorporated

5303 Storer Avenue

361-1563

Sauer Funeral Home

4801 Memphis Avenue

351-4625
Rams' QB, Rudar, Stymied by Sickness

By Mike Mayo

"Oh, chuck it all." This may be what many boys at Rhodes would say if confronted with problems such as 12B Chuck Rudar faces and has faced over the years.

But it takes more than feared cracked ribs, pencil lead lodged in the knee, double pneumonia, bronchitis contracted with step-throat, a twice-broken thumb, and numerous scrapes and bruises to keep this Ram down and out.

Rudar, commonly known as hard-hat Chuck to his closer friends who think about it for a minute, plans to attend Cornell University, and intends to play football, baseball, and participate on the track team.

"I know of no one who works harder to do the job," says head football coach Mr. Jim Templin. "With better health he'll do well in college football."

Rudar received the afore-mentioned pencil lead in second grade while "goofing around" with the boy sitting next to him.

"I've liked football all my life and decided to play in the 9th grade," says Rudar, who broke his thumb first in J.V. football and again last year. Rudar also participated in J.V. basketball while a sophomore and the track team in his junior year.

"Chuck has all the ingredients of a great quarterback," says coach Templin. "He has a strong arm, good size, is a leader, and is intelligent." Rudar can throw a football 70 yards.

Chuck missed almost all of summer practice because of a case of double pneumonia. However, Chuck regained in time to start the Rams' first two games against Maple Heights and Bay.

Then Chuck contracted bronchitis, followed by a step-throat infection. This has kept Chuck out of the line-up until Oct. 15.

He played safety against Lincoln. Why would a be presently first in his class with a 4.8 grade average, still come back for more?

An Editorial

Are You Another Tommy Smith?

By Mike Mayo, Sports Editor

Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light ...

For 192 years, these familiar words have meant an indescribable something to 200 million Americans. Evidently, though, it did not mean very much to Tommy Smith and John Carlos, the gold and bronze medal winners of the 200 meter dash respectively at the Mexico Olympics.

Upon receiving their medals, these "Americans" dropped their heads so as not to look at the American flag. They were wearing black "locks" and black clover. As the Star Spangled Banner started, they raised their hands in a fist, the symbol of "Black Power."

These men were chosen to represent America, not the black minority. They accepted the trip falsely, for this was their way to "show" the white Americans. They were asked to leave the Olympic Villa.

While watching this on television, no doubt, many Rhodians were a little ashamed. I was, too.

But at the same time, I am also ashamed when I hear the national anthem being played, and see Rhodians walking around or talking to their friends. For those not informed, you are to stand at attention or freeze during the national anthem and also, by the way, during the Rhodes hymn and the opposite school's Anthem.

The Visitors

Top Parma rock group is seeking bass or organ player. Need is urgent.

Call 661-8076

12B's
Think Class

Elect Chuck Rudar Pres.
Mike Mayo Vice Pres.

They're Here

The New Class Ring Samples
New Stone Selection • New Display
Come in Today!

Peck Jewelry Co.
Diamonds • Watches
4234 Pearl Road (Opp. Deaconess Hospital)
Cleveland, Ohio 44109

Seniors Unite!
Vote For Experience
Elect
Boester
Senior Class Pres.

Adams Row
in Parmatown
Open every night till 9

Save Money on Your Class Ring
Any Year
Any Color
Budget Terms Available

Harburger's
211 Euclid Ave. Jewellers Ma 1-1814

New Idea in a Young Men's Shop

Adams Row
is now open at Parmatown

The atmosphere is casual. Browse all you want without being bothered. The clothes — very with it. You'll see the latest styles from the country's biggest names in young men's fashion—Levi's, Van Heusen, Jantzen, Botany—all your favorites. We think you will like what you see, and what you see will look good on you so come our way soon.
Senate to Test Newman

By Bill Sperry

Kent Newman, unofficially ranked third in Senate competition, (110-43) will head the harriers at the annual Senate meet held at Ridgewood Golf course this Saturday. According to the District meet held three weeks ago, Dan McCrone (10-23) and Chris Kearney both of Ignatius are seeded one and two with Newman a close third.

"If the variety runners continue to perform as they have, then we should be able to place in the top six places in the Senate," says harrier Coach Steve Tekeysy.

Don McCrone seems to be looking with distaste at Kent Newman, Ram distance man who may be the biggest threat to McCrone's Senate lead as a cross-country runner.

J. V. Football Team Finishes Season 2nd in West Senate

"The J. V.'s had a tremendous attitude and they never quit," says Coach Mark Laderer.

"I never saw a group more willing to follow orders and do their best," remarked assistant coach Ed Everett.

"They are full of power and hidden talent," states both coaches.

The football season is over for the J.V.'s, but is won't be forgotten. The Rams 5-2 record was topped only by the 7-0 mark of St. Ignatius. Remaining on the road of victory, the Rams rolled over Marshall 20-6 on October 19. The game was highlighted by an 85-yard kickoff return by Darryl Emerick.

To raise their record to 4-1, the Rams outplayed Lincoln and beat them 22-8. Sparking the scoring was Don LeColle's two point safety. Their finish was a Ken Casaly touchdown reception.

A Senate champion was in the air as the Rams battled Ignatius only to lose 30-6. The lone touchdown was scored by Tom Pyes on a run. Revenge and a respectable 5-2 record was obtained as Rhodes shut out West 160 with all points scored by Jim Kaspar.

The season's scoring was led by Kaspar with 28, with Frank Zelma on his tail with 20.

Football at Rhodes High doesn't follow the Chinese calendar. They have their own. Next year, maybe next year, will be the year of the Ram.

J. V. Football Team Finishes Season 2nd in West Senate

On October 19, the Ram harriers competed in the District meet at Ridgewood Golf course. Senior Kent Newman paced the team to its top mark with an Eliza Catholic. Newman finished sixth in the meet followed by Terry Davison, Dave Reckesy, 36; Rich Kuzmier, 51; and Hugh Blackside, 59; to score a total of 186 points.

At the Regional meet on October 26, Newman failed to qualify for the state by finishing 34. Only the top 16 in this meet go to the state. The J.V. team finished 12 out of 17 teams in the Regional. They were led by sophmore Dave Sutlowhy who finished 56.

Coach Tekeysy states that this was the team's rebuilding year. The only returning man out from last year's top ten was Kent Newman. Next year, four out of the top seven will return. Tekeysy has hopes next year for Dave Reckesy, Terry Davison, Hugh Blackside, Dave Sutlowhy, and Craig Czarnota.

"This year the team showed fine team spirit along with loyalty, respect and cooperation to all other team members," added Coach Steve Tekeysy.

Varsity Gridders Seek Win Over West High Saturday

"It should be a real good game, especially if we play the way we did against Ignatius," said head coach Jim Templin referring to the game with West High Saturday night.

The game will be West's last, so they may be really trying to win this one. Next year, Lincoln and West are merging.

On November 1, the Rams fell to Saint Ignatius 41-14, but somehow the game seemed a closer contest than that.

"The team played really well, probably the best this season," said Mr. Templin. "Nick DeBow was selected player of the week because even though he was all around the game, he played both offense and defense, both, and well actually was the spark of the offense and kept the team alive," said Mr. Templin about the fullback-defensive end.

Paul Zapic, in his first starting assignment of the year, played safety on defense and end on offense and really opened some Ram fan's eyes while interrupting a pass in the end zone and pulling a Buchwald pass down while being surrounded by two Ignatius Players.

"Paul also made many key tackles, especially on kickoffs and punt," adds Mr. Templin.

Ron Buchwald scored two touchdowns, both in the fourth quarter, both for four yards. Bob Miazovski added the extra two points.

At John Marshall field, on October 25, the 1-7 Rams were out-Avery'd 34-8. Out-Avery'd Yes, Willie Avery, Lincoln's little 125 pound-repeat, 125 pound - 5'6" half-back actually beat the Rams with his moves, speed, agility, toughness and five touchdowns. He also purred 720 yards, but back turned in the last 720 yards, believes he will be the first 125 pound all-state All-scholaristic.

To keep the game from being a total loss, fullback Norman Lange added his six points worth with a two yard plunge to pay-day. The extra two points were added by Bill Hyman.

On Homecoming, October 19, the Rams again lost. This time to an undefeated Marshall team, 30-6.

If it hadn't been for Fred Guger's takeoff followed by a 60-yard run to the three yard-line, quarterback Ron Buchwald would not have plunged over for the six points, and Paul Zapic would not have gone in for the points after the touchdown.

Frost Gridders End Season at 1-2-2

By Louis Jannazo

Defense was the name of the game as the Frost Ram fullback battled to a scoreless tie in a rain-soaked game against Schuler Jr. High on October 28. This game was the last of the season as the freshmen Rams compiled a 1-2-2 record.

"Freshmen football adds Ram teams. This is why we have the program," remarked Coach Allan Pottar. An indication of the assistance of experience from frost football is that in the past two years the junior varsity has had successful seasons. Many of the players were former Moose players.

Ralph Glatchower provided the lone Moose tally, an 80 yard, kick-off return, as the freshmen were defeated by A. B. Hart 20-0. A tough Lakewood Harding Junior High team got by the frost 29-0 on October 10. Harding was in football in the eighth grade.

Lakewood showed experience in that they had a kicker to handle extra points and possible field goal situations.

Frost Gridders End Season at 1-2-2

Quarterback Ron Buchwald (with ball) is about to be met by a John Marshall player in the game at Rhodes field on October 19.

By Louis Jannazo

Skiing their way to a third place finish was the Frost inter-scholastic badminton team in a meet held October 17 at West Tech.

Craig Czarnota and Fran Teufel, both 11B's participated in the boys and girls singles category. Playing in the boys doubles were 11B's Warren Bianchi and Bob Beck, 12B's Nancy Kovaits and Helen Elsmier handled the girls doubles. Competing in the mixed doubles were 11B Dirk Peter and 10B Ellen Calgaras.

On the intramural basketball scene, 12B homeroom 116 defeated all opposing homerooms and won a playoff with 20A's to win the championship. The team is pictured on page seven.

A tie for first place as the result team of the regular 11B grade intramural season. 11B homeroom 203 defeated all other junior rivals except 125 while 11A homeroom 32 was the champion. No opponents were able to pick on the exceptio of 203.

The 203 team consists of Frank Huhtanen, Larry Kowalski, Harry Hual, Russ Jenkins, Ed Kabot, Glen Kelly, Mark Kubica, Terry Kusner and Joe Mar.

Thirteen senior girls have been keeping step by step with boys gymn classes. Like the boys, these girls see how many laps they can run in 12 minutes.